

Sunday p.m.

Hi Vicki & Jim,

We seem to be out of writing paper so I'll have to use this notebook paper, I guess -

We were happy to get your letter and say good bye to Jim's back to work either tomorrow or perhaps last Friday even - It was so good to have you both with us! Especially while Jerry was home too - It always goes so fast it seems sort of like a dream! Did you go back on a 747 too? And what was the weather like when you got back to Virginia? We've had cooler weather with a few showers since Thursday nite - This morning it was blowing some and raining a little and I woke up to the sound of apples falling in the backyard and wondering if the roof would leak in the boys' room - what with that upper west wall all open - But fortunately it didn't - I "tiptoed" out there and they were sleeping peacefully in the day - The sun's out this afternoon and Dad and I are here alone - (4:00) He's working on an electrical panel out of the back part of the house and I've done the dishes, etc -

Jerry went to a class reunion picnic at Champoeg park and Ken went out to Debbie's to help her baby sit with a new colt one of her mares had lost nite - Seems it isn't doing too well yet - Too weak to nurse or she doesn't know how to yet and stumbles around banging its poor little self up - Very sad!

Jerry's friend, Alban, from Reno came up for the weekend - (including Friday) and they spent yesterday at Silver Creek Falls with his fiancée and a girl friend. Her name was Chris and seemed very nice - will be a soph. at Stanford this fall - But Jerry didn't get her address - Said he liked her though -

I'll be going back to work tomorrow and will have to go an hour early for a couple of days since Jo will be taking time off -

Not much news from here - Glad you had a good time in Wash. and we do want to meet Jim's folks sometime in the not too distant future - We've talked about it several times -

Write again soon - We love hearing from you. When does (or do) your fall classes begin dear? Ken registers the 12th I believe - Bye now.

Lots of love,
Mom, Dad, Jerry & Ken.
